

Achieving the Vision

Innovation & Organizational Excellence

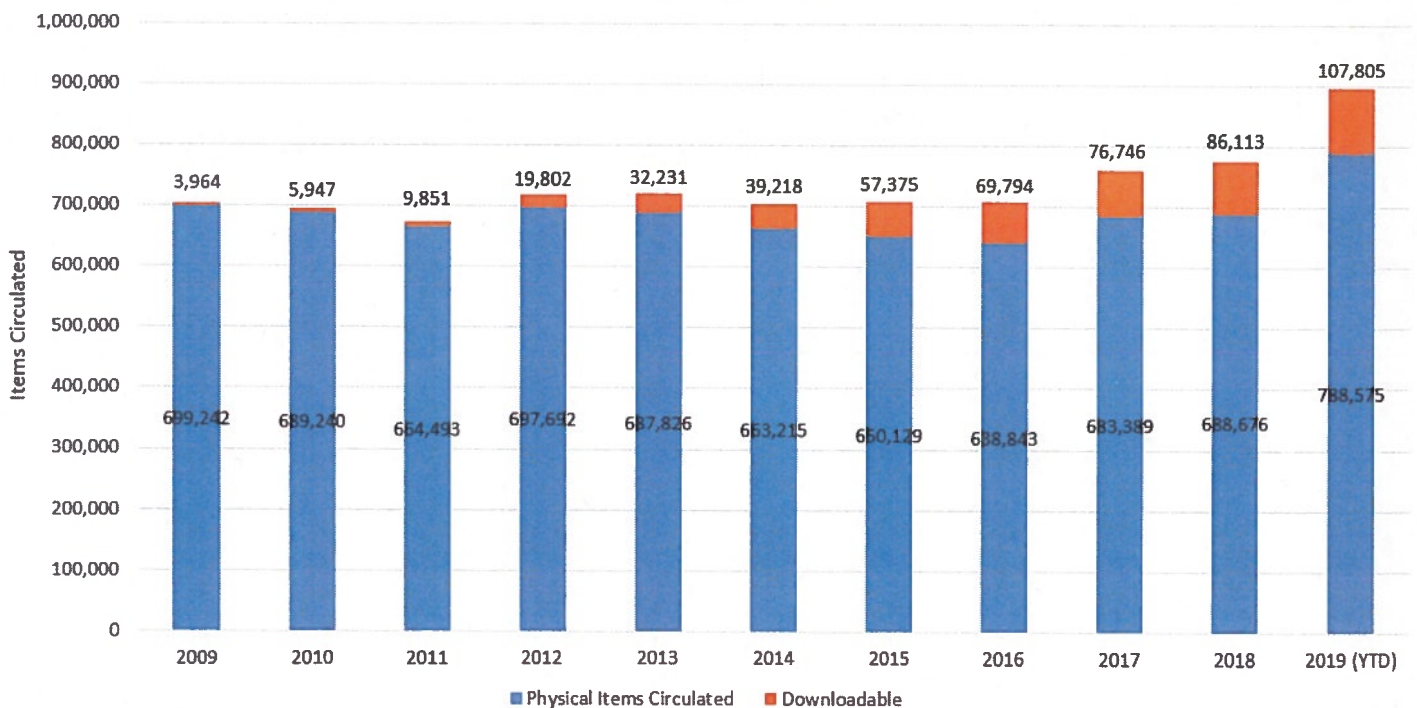

The Library instituted several new policies and procedures in 2019 to promote circulation of Library materials. These changes have improved patrons' access to collections, removed barriers and encouraged more people to use the items they selected for more time. The library invested over $230,000 in new materials including print materials, subscriptions, downloadable content, movies and music in 2019. Use of the collection is primarily measured by circulation which has been strong across all formats and platforms during the year. Innovations to circulation policies and procedures during the past year include automatic renewals, increases to hold limits and elimination of overdue fines. These changes have encouraged more patrons to checkout items, resulting in a greater return on investment for the funds used to purchase materials.

Moving the Needle

Circulation

Circulation of library materials is a Key Performance Measure and is tracked on a monthly basis by type of material (print, downloadable, media) and by division (Adult, Children's, Teen). The circulation of physical and downloadable items in 2019 was projected to be 765,000. By the end of November, the actual number was 896,380.
