

So you finished
THE HUNGER GAMES
...Now What?

If you're already hungry for your next dystopian novel, check out these awesome titles, all available in the teensen!

(*first in series)

Ashes* by Ilsa Bick

Glow* by Amy Kathleen Ryan

Skyship Academy* by Nick James

Ashfall* by Mike Mullin

Gone* by Michael Grant

Truancy* by Isamu Fukui

Birthmarked* by Caragh M. O'Brien

Harmony by Project Itoh

The Unidentified by Rae Mariz

Blood Red Road* by Moira Young

House of the Scorpion by Nancy Farmer

Unison Spark by Andy Marino

Bumped by Megan McCafferty

Incarceron* by Catherine Fisher

The Water Wars by Cameron Stracher

The Carbon Diaries 2015* by Saci Lloyd

Legend* by Marie Lu

Wither* by Lauren DeStefano

Crewel* by Gennifer Albin

Little Brother* by Cory Doctorow

...Or Try One of These Can't-Miss

Classic Dystopian Novels:

Delirium* by Lauren Oliver

Matched* by Ally Condie

1984 by George Orwell (located in adult fiction)

Divergent* by Veronica Roth

The Maze Runner* by James Dashner

Brave New World by Aldous Huxley

(located in adult fiction)

The Eleventh Plague by Jeff Hirsch

Pathfinder* by Orson Scott Card

Enclave* by Ann Aguirre

(note: dystopia with zombies!)

The Pledge* by Kimberly Derting

(note: romantic dystopian fantasy)

Fahrenheit 451 by Ray Bradbury

(located in teen paperback / adult fiction)

Forest of Hands and Teeth* by Carrie Ryan
(note: dystopia with zombies!)

The Selection* by Kiera Cass

The Giver by Lois Lowry

(note: Newberry Medal Winner!)

Girl of Fire and Thorns* by Rae Carson
(note: dystopian fantasy)

Lord of the Flies by William Golding

Updated 7/2013