Recycling program began in early 2011

Since the Refrigerator and Freezer appliances save money and energy. Running. Disposing of old, inefficient models resulting in more than $150 annually in electric costs to keep them running. Disposing of old, inefficient appliances. The new Refrigerator and Freezer Recycling Program. Free pickup of used refrigerators and freezers. We’ll pick up at your earliest convenience. (if the unit has a locking latch please top of the door shut) City personnel can easily access it, and freezers and refrigerators may be placed outside where it is difficult to manage.

Free computer classes offered at the library

The Loveland Public Library’s iLearn Technology program offers a variety of drop-in classes that range from beginner to advanced levels. The classes introduce students to Windows 7 and gently bring them into the world of computer basics. The classes are intended for those who are new to computers and those who need a refresher course in computers. The classes are taught by certified library staff members.

Citizen’s Comprehensive Plan

Public process will yield new plan for City’s future

K am Wright, a recent immigrant to Loveland from Kirkland, Wash., is in the midst of an admirable adaptation. But her own home was in a lakeside neighborhood near the shores of Lake Washington, the body of water that separates Seattle from its eastern neighbor, the high desert, Wright’s first adjustment brought them, she arrived with the same jolt experienced by many moving to Loveland from Kirkland, Wash., is in the midst of an admirable adaptation.
