

SUPERNATURAL

Famous Last Words by Katie Alender

High-schooler Willa has just moved to California with her mother and film director stepfather, and she will be attending a private school— but her real problem is that she keeps seeing things that are not really there, like a dead body in the swimming pool, and her visions may be connected to a serial killer that is stalking young girls in Hollywood.

Lost in Thought by Cara Bertrand

At her new boarding school, Lainey Young has visions that confirm she is one of the Sententia, a society for the psychically gifted, but she and crush Carter Penrose soon learn that the extent of her powers may be putting her in danger.

Night Sky by Suzanne Brockmann and Melanie Brockmann

Sixteen-year-old Skylar Reid joins her best friend Cal, Dana, a girl with supernatural abilities, and Dana's friend Milo on a quest to rescue young Sasha from the Organization that kidnapped her because, according to Dana, Sky and Sasha both have special abilities too.

Servants of the Storm by Delilah S. Dawson

After her best friend dies in a hurricane, Dovey discovers something even more devastating— demons in her hometown of Savannah.

Messenger of Fear by Michael Grant

The Messenger of Fear brings justice to those who do wrong, creating frightening games where the players earn their redemption— or lose their sanity— and somehow Mara, fifteen, has become his apprentice.

Marina by Carlos Ruiz Zafon

When boarding-school student Oscar Draí meets Marina, she promises him a mystery and takes him to a secret graveyard deep in Barcelona, where they witness a woman dressed in black lay a single rose atop a gravestone etched with a black butterfly. Their curiosity leads them down a dangerous path, and they discover a decades-old conspiracy that puts their lives in the hands of forces more sinister and mystical than they could have believed possible.

Woven by Michael Jensen

A princess and a ghost set out on a journey to find a magic needle that can sew the ghost back to his life.

The Young Elites by Marie Lu

Adelina Amouteru survived the blood fever, a deadly illness that killed many, but left others with strange markings and supernatural powers. Cast out by her family, Adelina joins the secret society of the Young Elites and discovers her own dangerous abilities.

One past midnight by Jessica Shirvington

Each night, eighteen-year-old Sabine transitions between a life of privilege and security, but no intimacy to one of economic struggle but loving relationships, and the difficulty of this strange situation causes her to consider suicide, at least in one physical reality.

Where Silence Gather by Kelsey Sutton

Since her family was killed by a drunk driver six years before, Alexandra Tate, now eighteen, has seen emotions personified— especially Revenge— but now that the driver is out of prison, surprising discoveries about her father's past make choosing between Revenge and Forgiveness a struggle.

Afterworlds by Scott Westerfeld

In alternating chapters, eighteen-year-old Darcy Patel navigated the New York City publishing world and Lizzie, the heroine of Darcy's novel, slips into the "Afterworld" to survive a terrorist attack and becomes a spirit guide, as both face many challenges and both fall in love.

Illusions of Fate by Kiersten White

An outcast since moving from her island home of Melei to the dreary country of Albion, Jessamin meets the gorgeous, enigmatic Finn who introduces her to the secret world of Albion's nobility— a world of power, money, status, and magic— but Finn has the powerful enemy who only Jessamin can stop.

The Cure for Dreaming by Cat Winters

In Portland, Oregon, in 1990, seventeen-year-old Olivia Mead, a suffragist, is hypnotized by the intriguing young Henri Reverie, who is paid by her father to make her more docile and womanly but who, instead, gives her the ability to see people's true natures, while she secretly continues fighting for women's rights.