Please see 'historic significance section' as this is detailed in that section as well. Additionally, upon request, you may review the 200 page structural assessment report that was conducted by AE Designs, Inc for the Loveland Elks over the past two years. This is available in electronic format and Bethany Clark has a hard copy of the report. There are also 60 photos of the interior and exterior of the building in it's current condition with explanations of the existing historical characteristics of certain elements of the building, such as the original mahogany wood trim on the original hotel rooms on the third floor of the Lodge.

Statement of Significance

Please provide a brief statement summarizing the applicable criteria checked on previous pages.

The 1913 Elks Lodge/Lovelernder Hotel Building is an example of Early Twentieth Century Commercial Architecture, a Special Use Property Type defined by the Colorado Historical Society's Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation. Common elements of this type that are present on the Elks Lodge/Lovelernder Hotel Building include: a slightly pitched roof with parapet, box cornice, decorative brickwork, and scant additional ornamentation. Although the building was altered substantially between 1927 and 1951, all changes occurred as a result of the Elks' acquisition of the property. The building's primary significance is its association with the fraternal organization and its contribution to the social history of Loveland. Therefore, the alterations do not diminish the building's overall significance.

Photographs of property as it appears today

Constructed of buff-colored brick in a running bond, the building has a flat roof with parapets on the south and west sides highlighted by a projecting sheet metal box cornice with integral gutter system. The original south, or main, storefront elevation was altered in the 1950 and exhibits Art Moderne design elements. Clad with light brown and marbled black glass tile and brown tone tile mosaic, the recessed entry to the Elks Lodge is framed by a wide, glass tile surround and contains a double leaf, glazed door flanked by frosted, corrugated glass sidelights and transom. Glass tiles with Moderne style lettering (BPOE) are located above the lodge entry. On either side of the main entrance, fixed aluminum frame windows are topped by a fluted aluminum cornice with fixed transom windows above. Black glass tile bands are located above the transoms. Brown tone mosaic tile is located beneath the windows. The second and third stories of the south elevation each have seven wood-frame, double hung, one-over-one windows in the original 1913 fenestration pattern. Windows have dressed sandstone lugsills. The five central windows on each story are framed by a decorative border of projecting brick, with window openings separated by brick pilasters.

Facing Railroad Avenue, the west elevation was the original main entrance to the Loveland Hotel and featured three distinct three-story sections separated by recessed bay light wells (see historic photograph below). This elevation was modified after the Elks purchased the building in 1927. The southern third of the west elevation retains its original fenestration pattern on the first and second stories. Each story has five wood-frame, double hung, one-over-one windows with dressed sandstone lugsills. The windows are framed...

Lovelander Hotel
(Known as Elks Lodge and Plaza Apartments)
103 East 4th Street

The Lovelander Hotel was erected in 1912-13, replacing an aging wood frame hotel—The Loveland House—which had been in this location since 1878. After a $40,000 remodel in the summer of 1913, the hotel reopened to feature such modern conveniences as steam heat, telephone service, and hot and cold water piped to each of its forty-two guest rooms. Soon after World War I, the business suffered a decline and by 1926 was up for sale. Elks Lodge No. 1051 purchased the building in 1927 and remodeled the interior. Around the same time, a three-story, east side addition was constructed to continue housing the residential hotel. The name changed to the Plaza Apartments in the 1970s.

History of McKee Medical Center

The first hospital in Loveland was Sutherland Hospital established in 1896 by W. P. Sutherland, MD, in his home on 6th and Grant. His screened-in porch was turned into an operating room. The First United Methodist Church now stands on this site. In 1917, Dr. Sutherland passed away and a group of physicians leased and maintained the hospital until 1929.

In 1928, William Gasser, MD, established a 10 to 14-bed hospital known as Loveland Hospital. This hospital was in existence until 1947. From 1947 to 1951 Loveland had no local hospital.

In 1945, the Loveland Elks Lodge contributed $50,000 to start a drive to raise funds to build a new hospital in Loveland. The people of Loveland approved new bonds to build a hospital. However, the Colorado State Hospital Advisory Board said a hospital in Loveland was not a high enough priority to receive funds through the Hill Burton Act, a federal program to help build hospitals in rural areas. A Loveland group, including attorney Conrad Ball, gained the support of Gov. William Lee Knous for a hearing before the State Board of Health. That hearing led to the approval of federal funds.

Discussion occurred as to who and how the hospital would be operated. Elks Lodge representatives met with the city council and proposed that the city lead efforts to develop, manage and operate the hospital as city-owned property.

After considerable discussion, the city decided against it, saying a hospital's operations should not be affected by changes in city personnel due to elections, etc. The city therefore declined the $50,000 offered by the Elks.

A committee was organized to work with the Elks Lodge and the city council to obtain a hospital. The committee called chambers of commerce in towns where other Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society hospitals were located. Upon completion of their research, Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society of Fargo, N.D. was selected to participate in building a new facility in Loveland. The 42-bed, 35,300-square-foot hospital was a lease arrangement, and was completed and opened Nov. 25, 1951. The location was Douglass and 8th Street. Over the next several decades, the hospital provided services to an ever-expanding population. In 1968 the Loveland Memorial Hospital District was formed to take the responsibility of the hospital from the city of Loveland and shift it to the district.

During this time, local farmer Thomas McKee was a patient in the aging, crowded hospital. He recognized a need and donated 29.5 acres of his farm for a new health care facility. In 1973, Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society agreed to build a new facility on the property donated by Tom McKee.

In 1976, McKee Medical Center opened for business. McKee opened with 80 beds at 94,355 square feet, and began operations shortly before the Big Thompson Flood. During the aftermath of the flood, McKee received hundreds of patients and the new facility faced its first disaster. The new building proved to be the town's greatest asset.

McKee has experienced a number of expansions through the years:

- 1981 - Expansion of the Boiler Room/Addition of second and third floor - C Wing
- 1982 - Expansion of Medical Imaging
- 1990 - McKee Conference and Wellness Center/Medical Imaging expansion
- 1991 - Emergency Department
- 1993 - Medical Office Building - first and second floors
- 1994 - Surgery expansion
- 1995 - MRI building
- 1998 - Surgery expansion
- 2001 - Medical Office Building - third and fourth floors
- 2002 - Cancer Center
- 2003 - Records storage
- 2005 - Legacy Phase I - OB/Telemetry/Materials Management/Surgery
- 2007 - Emergency Department/Lab/Pharmacy

Blood Drive Report

The 911 Community Blood Drive for 2012 was Co-Chaired by Mary Thomason, John Giroux and Debbie Davis. The following members and volunteers were also on the committee: Peggie McGuire, Marge Shafer, Deborah Furney, Denise Richter, Bill and Elizabeth Markham, Craig Davis, Bill Thomason, Connie Giroux, Briand and Emily Westphal, Pam Hauschild, Rob Wright, Scott and Monica Graham and a few others.

The concept of this event is to help fill the critical need of the local blood banks, and promote the community's awareness of the Lodge, while commemorating 9/11, which is Patriot's Day. The goal of this event is to eventually raise 911+ pints of blood and make this an event that the entire community can participate in on an annual basis.

Year to date the Blood Drive has committee raised approx $3,000.00 in funds and approx $1,500 in-kind donations from various fund raisers and sponsorships. The event was facilitated on September 7, 8 and 10th with approx 200 attendees, of which approximately 150 pints of blood were drawn.

Tomorrow, September 11th, we will hold the 9/11 Celebration event which will host Major Diggs Brown as our Keynote speaker, speaking on his deployment to Afghanistan shortly after the 9/11/01 terrorist attack, as well as his work with establishing the Veteran’s Plaza of Northern Colorado. This event is open to the public.

Additionally, this event will include the Lodge’s Loveland Chamber ‘Ribbon Cutting’, which is a special greeting ceremony from the Chamber into their business membership organization. By combining these events, we hope to attract additional business members into the Loveland Elks membership base and further deepen the reach in which the Elks touch and impact lives of those around us.

The event has been covered in the local newspapers, on the radio, on various websites, and on Facebook, as well as advertised with posters, flyers and word of mouth. They also received a proclamation from Loveland Mayor Cecil Gutierrez, that September 13th is the 911 Community Blood Drive Day in Loveland Colorado, which was proclaimed at City Council on 9/4/2012.

The committee’s funds were applied toward paying for the expenses and supplies of hosting the entire event, which includes a free meal, cash bar, silent auction, and drawings. The funds were also used to purchase a membership with the Chamber of Commerce, purchase name tags for committee members to use while attending Chamber and Blood Drive events, and they also purchased three banners displaying the Loveland Elks – one for parades, one for beer garden and one for the Blood Drive.

Respectfully,

Debbie Davis, 911 Community Blood Drive Co-Chair
